

THE DAILY STAR

THE WEATHER.
WASHINGTON, April 15.—For Tennessee and the Ohio Valley northeast to northwest wind, falling barometer, cooler, cloudy and rainy weather, followed in the western portions by rising barometer.

MINOR LOCAL MENTIONS.

Mr. Joseph Schultz, of this city, was yesterday admitted to the bar.

Common Council will organize to-morrow, when Mayor Jacob will be sworn in.

Henry Snyder broke his leg at the Public Landing yesterday and was taken to the hospital.

Tobacco and liquor dealers must pay their internal revenue taxes by the 20th of this month to avoid the penalty.

Bishop A. W. Wayman, of the African M. E. Church, replied to Ingersoll's attack on the Bible, at Allen Chapel last evening.

Caroline Meisel, a domestic living on Walnut Hills, fell on the pavement yesterday and sprained her ankle. She was taken to the hospital.

A fine crayon portrait of the late Major M. Hazen White, the deceased Librarian of the Y. M. I. A., is on exhibition at Clarke's. It is by Vincent.

The bicycles which are to be used in the one hundred-mile contest between Adams and Robinson to-morrow are on exhibition in prominent Vine-street saloons.

Housekeepers yesterday paid a visit to the home of Mr. Lentz, a driver on the Mt. Auburn Street Railroad, and got away with twenty-five pounds of land and several jars of pickles and preserves.

The Highland boys were to enter upon their fourth series tonight, but owing to serious illness in the family of Mr. Frank Harff, the management have postponed the first bout to Wednesday, April 24th.

Fred Stamm, of Linwood, was tried before Judge High last Monday for stealing a fine set of harness from J. W. Craig last December. After hearing the testimony the Judge fined Stamm $30 and costs.

The game of base-ball which was to have come off to-day between the Reds and the picked nine has been postponed until next Saturday, on account of the bad condition of the grounds, caused by the rain night before last.

The Rev. Mr. Davidson, late of the Central Tennessee University, has arrived in the city, and will immediately enter upon his duties as pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church on Seventh street, between Central avenue and Miami.

The vocal and instrumental concert to be tendered to Archbishop J. B. Purcell will take place at Robinson's Opera-house this evening. Mr. A. F. Tarelli and her company have kindly volunteered their services, as have the Schwenk Family, the Tyrolean Wanderers.

The Special Committee of the Board of Directors of Spring Grove Cemetery, appointed to secure plans for the erection of a Mortuary Chapel for the cemetery, have agreed that the style of architecture shall be of the Norman-Gothic order. Architect Hamann has been instructed to prepare drawings immediately. It is estimated that the Chapel will cost about $25,000.

Adam Mackie, a policeman of the Eighth District, was found this morning between 3 and 4 o'clock in a hot-house on Mt. Auburn with a lighted candle in his hands and a lot of cut flowers. When discovered he dropped his flowers and candle, and said he had nothing. Officer James Welsh reported him to the Chief of Police to-day, and an investigation will be made to-morrow.

Officer Maurice Sussman has taken charge of the base-ball grounds—that is, in regard to keeping order. He will be superintendent of the grounds whose number is eight, and will also have charge of the Club-house. Maurice knows the duties of his office thoroughly, and the Directors may feel satisfied that they could not have selected a better man than Maurice Sussman.

Mr. Gerhard Deters, one of the oldest German pioneers of this city, celebrated the fortieth anniversary of his wedding to-day at his home on Race street, near Liberty.

In the morning the event was celebrated by having High Mass sung at St. Francis Catholic Church. This evening a family reunion will be held at the home of the venerable couple. Among those present will be the eight children of the pair, and their grand-children. The event will be a happy one.

A Committee of Tennesseeans.

Ex-Governor James D. Porter, Judge James Whitworth, George A. Washington, Dempsey Weaver, Controller Gaines and Hon. R. B. Butler, of Tennessee, composing a committee recently appointed by the citizens of Tennessee to confer with the holders of Tennessee bonds and urge their acceptance of the proposition to settle on the basis of fifty cents and four per cent, interest, passed through Cincinnati this morning, proceeding direct to New York.

The party is accompanied by Mr. Robert J. G. Miller, City Editor of the Nashville Banner, and Mr. LeRoy D. Jones, City Editor of the American.

The Long Walk.

Next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Highland House Belvedere Madame Anderson, the world-renowned and champion pedestrian for feet of long distance and endurance will commence the unparallelled feat of walking eight hundred and four miles in five hundred and thirty-six consecutive hours, walking one and a half miles at the commencement of each hour. The walk will continue during twenty-two days and nights and eight hours.

The Madame is in splendid condition physically, and will beyond a doubt, accomplish this task. A complete orchestra will be in attendance every afternoon and evening.

Work-house Directors.

The semi-monthly meeting of the Directors of the Work-house was held yesterday and the following business transacted:

The Superintendent was authorized to purchase dump-cars and track for use in the quarry. A communication from Henry McEllane was received proposing to furnish dump-cars at $40 apiece and track at 40 cents per foot. The proposition was accepted.

JACOB WILL BE MAYOR.

The Question as Heretofore Decided by the U. S. Courts.

Enough that a Man is Naturalized—No Inquiries Afterward as to How it was Done.

The Jacob naturalization matter having excited a good deal of attention, a Star reporter was this morning sent to interview a leading lawyer, who was reported to have examined the decisions of the U. S. Courts on the subject.

We are not permitted to give the name of the gentleman who took the trouble to show our reporter the construction which the highest tribunal of the country has put upon the law, but it is important that the decisions cited by him seem to speak for themselves. As the Star was the first to discover this complication in the Jacob case, it is proper that it should also be the first to give the public a clear and correct understanding of the case.

The decisions seem to be clear that there is no power to go behind the records in a naturalization case. If a man holds naturalization papers issued in due form, these seem fully to settle the matter, and there appears to be no power to inquire into the manner of their issue or the facts which were established to the satisfaction of the Court at the time the applicant sought to become a citizen.

The first decision cited on the subject was rendered by Chief Justice Marshall in the case of Spratt vs. Spratt, reported in 4th Peters 1,383, as follows: "Spratt was admitted a citizen of the United States by the Circuit Court of the County of Washington, D. C., and obtained a certificate in the usual form. The act of the court admitting him as a citizen was a forgery of the Circuit Court, and the certificate cannot look behind it and inquire on what evidence it was procured."

If the judgment of Courts of record on the subject of naturalization is entered on the books in legal form, it closes all inquiry, and like any other judgment, is complete evidence of its own validity.

The next case is that of Campbell vs. Gordon and wife, reported in Sixty Chancery, in this case the court was rendered by Justice Washington as follows:

"If the oath be administered, and nothing appears to the contrary, it must be presumed that the Court was satisfied as to the character of the applicant, and that he was in fact a citizen of the United States."

In Seventh Circuit appears another opinion to the same effect, in the case of Starke vs. The Chesapeake Insurance Company. The Court held:

"It need not appear by the record of naturalization that all the requisites prescribed by law for the admission of aliens to the rights of citizenship have been complied with; Semble, that the judgment of the Court is conclusive on all the prerequisites have been complied with," etc.

VACCINATING THE VICTIMS
In the Palatial Palace of the Police Court this morning.

"Lizzie Rodgers, you're up here again I see for being drunk," remarked Judge Wilson, when a whiskey-soaked female stood up in answer to her name, "when did you go out?" "A couple of days ago," replied Lizzie.

"Well go on for thirty days, to get the whiskey out of you," said the Judge, and Lizzie was dragged below.

Thomas Toomey was arraigned for peddling shawls without a license. "What was you peddling for shawls a license, Toomey?" asked His Honor. "Well, Judge," he replied, "I made application to the Mayor's Clerk for a license, and he told me that there was a question as to who would be the next Mayor, and he could not issue me a license. He told me I could go on with my peddling and there would be no trouble." "Mr. Officer," said Judge Wilson, "take this man into the Mayor's office and see that he gets a license. I'll dismiss this case if he does."

John Schroeder was charged by his sister Lizzie with disorderly conduct. She testified that John would not work, and in addition, would be a nuisance to her and her children in the family. Judge Wilson disposed of Schroeder by sending him out for thirty days.

Con. Comfort, for being drunk, was committed by being sent to the Work-house for ten days.

Horace Brown, the reverend horse thief, was turned over to the Toledo officers this morning by Judge Wilson, and will be taken to that city.

George Crap, for striking a little boy named Bennie Block with a heavy whip, was fined $10 and costs.

Joseph Schmitt, an old man, was shipped to the city by the Mayor of Louisville, who wished to get rid of him. On his arrival here he was gobbled up for vagrancy. Judge Wilson sent an officer with him to have him shipped back to the Falls City.

James Macky, from Hiram, was sent to the Work-house for three months for street-begging.

Thos. O'Connor was sentenced to three months' imprisonment in the Work-house for an assault upon Samuel Greenough.

John Wilson was sentenced an old lady came to the front and said: "Judge, Yer Honor, that is my boy, an' ye might as well send me out too, for he is me only support." "Oh, go and sit down, madam, an' talk as that will not soften my heart," said the Judge, and Mrs. O'Connor went back to her seat a weeping and wailing for her lost boy.

An old gray-haired negro, a white-washer by trade, named E. Reakirt, was charged with stealing two whitewash brushes from Jess Fossett. Fossett took the stand and testified against his brother-in-law-daughter as follows: "When I had these whitewash brushes, I took 'em to me, I let word wid de whitewash fraternity dat I had two brushes stolen from me, an' axed dem to all keep a close lookout for de brushes. In a couple of days out dis word come to me dat dis here man Reakirt had de brushes. I called on de gentlemen an' he didn't deny de having de brushes, but said he got dem from a man named Clay." The case was then continued to see whether or not Reakirt had stolen the brushes or had bought them.

Ed. Bryank, charged with illegal voting, was discharged this morning, he proving that he was a resident of the ward in which he voted.

A young man named Edward Carson received sentence of twelve months in the Work-house and a fine of $100 for having burglar's tools in his possession. Last night he called at Pareira's pawnshop on Fifth street, and wanted to pawn a watch. Mr. Pareira thinking he looked suspicious, called in a couple of officers, who arrested Carson and took him to the Ninth-street Station-house. There he was searched. Among other things found upon him was an open-bladed knife and a tin tube filled with red pepper. The pepper, no doubt, he intended to blow into the eyes of Mr. Pareira and then rob him, but was prevented from doing so by the timely arrival of the officers.
